New York, Sept. 4.—Bradstreets's re-view of the New York stock market to-morrow will say: The arrival of some $4,000,000 of the gold engaged in Europe and the announcement of further chip-ments from London, have not been without their effect, nor has the street neglected the fact that the major portion of the gold thus far arrived has been turned into the treasury, raising its specie reserve from less than $105,000,000 to $103,000,000. The money market, too, while firm, has tost much of its stringent and unsettleing appearance and, spart from the continued troubles of Chicago, owing to the over-speculations of local operators, there have been no disturbing influences in trade or financial circles. Further gratification must be found in the fact that London has not taken any active part in the bull movement. The Bank of England has apparently offered no opposition to the movement of gold in this direction. The total now exceeds $20,-000,000 and the bank this week, up to Thursday, parced with over 2,000,000 pounds of its gold, with some consider-The tremendous speed of over 94 miles an hour was reached at the trial of the Holman friction-geared locemotive drawing a train over the tracks of the South Jersey railroad at Cape May, N. Englishmen Themselves Seem to Partially

We English go our own way, so far as we can see, with very little regard for anybody's susceptibilities and we must suffer other powers to go theirs, interfering only when the injury becomes serious enough to require something more dignified than shrill remonstrance. The other powers suspect us at least as botly as we suspect them and with this extra justification that as they see quite clearly, our power reaches everywhere, our broad road is always open and though we protest that, except as regards ships, we are a feeble folk, yet whenever need arises in Europe, Asia or Africa there are the troops ready to march forward and, as a rule, execute their orders with the kind of precision that generals admire

We are not little Englanders by any means. On the contrary, we held that the future of the world depends greatly upon the strength of the British empire and its ability to take a leading part in but if we are to carry out such ideas as we are now carrying out in eastern Af-Europe to carry out theirs. It is folly to claim East Africa, as we are practically doing, from Alexandria to the cape, and at the same time worry about France on the Niger or Russia in north ern China and Mazanderan. We are getting into a position in which we seem to our neighbors to lie around the world like the serpent of the Norse mythology, and then we are angry because they watch ne jesionsly and try to do little enterprises on their own account.

It is like a quarrel among neighbors about foot paths, and we cannot houeatly my that it is we who display either the patience or the fauleustess of the best caste, much less the transpullity of those who are sure allke of their rights and of their power to enfures them.
